=== PROFILE ===

Abur Hamdi Usman is a distinguished scholar and researcher in Islamic studies, focusing on Quranic exegesis, Hadith and its sciences. He holds a PhD in Quranic exegesis from Universiti Kebangsaan Malaysia (UKM). His academic work bridges the gap between theoretical frameworks and practical applications, contributing significantly to both academia and industry.

Dr. Usman has published extensively in leading peer-reviewed journals and has presented his research at numerous international conferences. His recent work explores the Quran and Hadith, aiming to address pressing global challenges and advance knowledge in the field. His publications are widely cited, reflecting his research's impact on theory and practice. In addition to his research, Dr. Usman is a dedicated lecturer, currently serving as Associate Professor at Universiti Islam Selangor (UIS). He is committed to mentoring students and fostering innovation through collaborative projects. Under his guidance, several graduate students have successfully completed their theses and contributed to impactful research.

Dr. Usman is also actively involved in professional organizations, serving as a reviewer for prestigious journals and participating in various academic committees. His contributions have earned him recognition, including the best paper award at conferences, the most published articles in the Scopus database, etc. Beyond academia, he engages in community initiatives to promote the Quran and Hadith as the way of life. Dr. Usman remains a prominent figure in his field with a passion for advancing knowledge and fostering interdisciplinary collaboration.
